DON'T PRUNE TOO MUCH
Home owners are reminded that foundation plantings that are rounded into smooth balls of foliage by constant pruning with hedge shears causes the shrub to lose its identity. A severe cutting back once a year and frequent training of the plant by pinching back new growth will make the plant look more natural, and it can be kept in the desired shape much better.

One inch of topsoil blown washed from one acre of ground amounts to approximately 102 tons, soil conservationists say.

John-McVill Corp. will install acoustical tile in all of the upstairs and downstairs portions of the library except the stack rooms and the auditorium. Fluorescent lighting will be installed in the reading room and the auditorium. Although the air-conditioning system has not been let, it is expected that work will begin on that project in sufficient time to have the library ready for warm weather. The library will also receive a complete paint job on the inside during the holidays. When completed it will probably be more functional and comfortable than any other library in this part of the state.

The windows of Pittman auditorium will be replaced with clear glass windows. New tile will be placed on the floor and the stage will be refinished.

President Henderson said that the road had been closed for two main reasons. First, he said, there are plans to extend the playing field across the pavement. Second, by closing the road steps can be taken to beautify that part of the campus.

He went on to say that with the extension of the playing field, a track will be set up, and eventually there is hope of having a small golf course built on campus.

Then there was the time the oldest son gave two kittens a drink—out of a gallon of Wesson oil. It ran on his Sunday suit, on my kitchen floor and on the apartment's kitchen floor underneath us. That was Sunday I missed church.

These are only a few incidents through the years and often I wondered why I tried, but after finally making it, I felt fully repaid.

There have been times when I felt it would be more beneficial to my spiritual life to stay at home, alone and commune with God unhampered by formal program, but I know that children don't form the church-going habit unless the parents set an example. Sending them to church won't do. Parents have to go with children. So I, too, believe that in spite of trials and tribulations, church-going is a good habit.

Pembroke Road Officially Closed

President Zack L. Henderson announced this week that the Pembroke Road was officially closed by the Bulloch County commission of roads and revenue.

He went on to say that with the extension of the playing field, a track will be set up, and eventually there is hope of having a small golf course built on campus.

Pembroke Road Officially Closed

President Zack L. Henderson announced this week that the Pembroke Road was officially closed by the Bulloch County commission of roads and revenue.

The road had been closed for two main reasons. First, he said, there are plans to extend the playing field across the pavement. Second, by closing the road steps can be taken to beautify that part of the campus.

He went on to say that with the extension of the playing field, a track will be set up, and eventually there is hope of having a small golf course built on campus.

The Ps of Va.

Continued from Editorial Page. turned slightly and looked down. The doll baby must have absorbed a pint of water during its bath and it had run out on the church seat and on my seat. I did sit down.

Then there was the time the oldest son gave two kittens a drink—out of a gallon of Wesson oil. It ran on his Sunday suit, on my kitchen floor and on the apartment's kitchen floor underneath us. That was Sunday I missed church.

These are only a few incidents through the years and often I wondered why I tried, but after finally making it, I felt fully repaid.

There have been times when I felt it would be more beneficial to my spiritual life to stay at home, alone and commune with God unhampered by formal program, but I know that children don't form the church-going habit unless the parents set an example. Sending them to church won't do. Parents have to go with children. So I, too, believe that in spite of trials and tribulations, church-going is a good habit.

Y advisory council meets

By ANN McDUGALD

The monthly meeting of the "Y" Advisory Council was held at the home of Miss Pat Crouch on Monday, November 28.

The meeting was called to order by chairman Judy Williams. The minutes and roll call were given by Secretary Ann McDougald.

Plans for a Christmas sing were discussed and the following suggestion was decided upon: The date for the sing be on Wednesday, December 21, at the First Presbyterian Church.

Four committees were set up and assigned as follows:

Sound equipment, Jr. Hi-Y; songs, Sr. Hi-Y; refreshments, Sr. Hi-Y; and publicity, Jr. Hi-Y. These are only suggestions and will be presented to the clubs for the final decision.

Mr. R. T. Bryant, district secretary, stressed a few points that the council must consider since we are a new club. He suggested that the meeting be carried out in a business-like manner, following parliamentary procedure. He suggested that the meeting be limited and closed with a final decision. Mr. Bryant complimented the council on its 100 per cent attendance.

The meeting was closed with a word of prayer by Mr. Bryant.

Presbyterians renovates church
Under the leadership of the board of deacons, the First Presbyterian Church of Statesboro is nearing completion of a remodeling program which it adopted in June of 1950.

Among the improvements which have been and are to be completed are installation of new mahogany pews, air conditioning, stained glass windows, new carpeting, a heating system for the educational building, additional Sunday School equipment and tile flooring. All buildings have been redecorated and it is planned to install new equipment in the kitchen.

Two years ago the church completed a new manse for its pastor. The total expenditure for the manse and the church has been approximately $35,000. During this period of two years the church has increased its membership from 136 to 193, and average Sunday school attendance has increased from around 40 to more than 100 in attendance each Sunday.
